

APPROVED

by order of PJSC Crypto Exchange
dated 20.09.2024 No. MB-P-2024-
1338

TERMS OF APPROVED PAGE PROPERTIES BY PUBLIC JOINT STOCK COMPANY "CRYPTO EXCHANGE", WHICH IS A BRANCH AND FULL REPRESENTATIVE OF "STAND EXCHANGE"

SECTION I. Terms and definitions

Approved Page Properties – characteristics and features of the APPROVED page, including layout, design elements, color scheme, and content structure.

Technical Center – Public Joint Stock Company "Crypto Exchange".

Client – a legal entity, individual or individual entrepreneur that has signed a Contract with a Technical Center.

Contract – a document signed by the Parties outlining the terms and conditions of the Approved Page Agreement.

Force majeure – fire, flood, earthquake, natural phenomena and cataclysms; military actions, terrorism, uprisings, civil disobedience or riots, vandalism or other illegal actions; government actions; inability of third parties to supply materials or services (but only if the specified inability to supply materials or services is caused by force majeure); as well as strikes, lockouts, or other business disputes (other than those involving personnel of either party); and any other similar causes beyond the reasonable control of the Party that (or the consequences of) The party could not have avoided by taking reasonable steps in accordance with an appropriate disaster recovery and/or business continuity policy and/or changing the routing of transmitted data).

Non-display use – any actions with Exchange Information, including recording, copying, organizing, converting, transmitting, performing logical and/or arithmetic operations and other actions performed in whole or in part using computer programs (software tools, software), which do not have the following goals: demonstration of Exchange information on screens (displays) and / or creating Derived information based on it. Processing in back-office systems of data exclusively on orders and transactions of the Client who is a Bidder, as well as receiving, processing and transmitting Exchange Information by Distributors to their clients for viewing on devices with screens (displays) do not relate to Non-display use.

SECTION II. General provisions

2.1. In accordance with these Terms and Conditions, the Technical Center undertakes to provide the Client with the following approved page properties (hereinafter referred to as the Services) in accordance with the procedure and on the terms established by these Terms and Conditions:

2.1.1. Provision of approved page properties for the Technical Center's website, including layout, design elements, color scheme, and content structure;

2.1.2. Granting the right to use the approved page template under the terms of a simple (non-exclusive) license for the purpose of creating and managing the APPROVED page;

2.1.3. Access to the network of the Technical Center, consulting and other information technology support services related to the provision of approved page properties, which are described in the List of Services;

2.2. The Approved Page Agreement, according to the form specified in Appendix No. 1 to the Terms, is drawn up by the Parties in paper form, signed by authorized persons in their own handwriting and stamped (if any).

2.3. In order to receive or cancel the Services, the Client sends to the Technical Center the original of the relevant Application for the provision/modification/termination of the Service, or, if applicable for individual Services, a notice of refusal of Services, drawn up in any form (with mandatory indication of the name of the service, organization and contract details), signed by an authorized person The client. If available, the Client puts a stamp on the Application.

2.5. The start and/or end date of the provision of Services or any changes to the Services provided by the Technical Center to the Client is the date specified by the Technical Center in the relevant Application sent to the Client, unless otherwise specified in the List of Services.

2.6. The Technical Center has the right at any time (subject to prior notification of the Client within the time limits set out in Section XII of the Terms and Conditions) to terminate the provision of a certain Service from the date of entry into force of the relevant changes to the Terms and Conditions.

SECTION III. Right to use the approved page template

3.1. The Technical Center undertakes to grant the Client the right to use the approved page template under the terms of a simple (non-exclusive) license in accordance with the procedure, to the extent and on the terms stipulated in the Terms. The territory of use of the approved page template ordered by the Client according to the Connection Scheme is the territory of the whole world. The period for which the Client is granted the right to use the corresponding approved page template is equal to the period of validity of the services (until they are disabled).

3.2. The Client has the right to install, access, display, copy and run the approved page template, the right to use which is granted to him by the Technical Center, to use the specified approved page template in accordance with its purpose, including those specified in the technical documentation for the approved page template.

3.3. The Client undertakes not to modify, adapt, decompile, decompile, make changes to the approved page template that the Technical Center has granted him the right to use, or create products derived from it.

3.4. The Client is not entitled to disclose information about access passwords to the approved page template provided to him by the Technical Center, except for the cases provided for in these Terms and Conditions.

3.5. The Client undertakes to immediately inform the Technical Center about the loss or disclosure of information provided for in clause 3.4 of the Terms.

3.6. The Client is responsible for violating the requirements stipulated in this Section 3, as well as all risks associated with their violation, including the risk of unauthorized persons using the approved page template.

3.7. A condition for granting the right to use the approved page template by the Technical Center is that the Client (another person who is granted the right to use the approved page template by the Client) has the necessary software and hardware that meet the requirements stipulated in the Connection Services Regulations, and the Client (another person to whom the Client granted the right to use the approved page template) performs the necessary actions (conditions) provided for in these Terms.

3.8. The right to use the approved page template is granted by the Technical Center by providing the Client (another person who is granted the right to use the approved page template by the Client) with the approved page template.

3.9. By connecting the Client (another person to whom the Client has granted the right to use the approved page template) to the approved page template for the purposes of these Terms and Conditions, Software registration, Software installation, and activation of the user name (login) and password issued in the name of the Client to access the approved page template (if necessary for accessing the approved page template) or entering the appropriate network permissions on the Shopping center equipment are understood.

3.10. The Client (another person who has been granted the right to use the approved page template by the Client) is considered connected to the approved page template from the moment when it becomes possible to use the approved page template in accordance with its intended purpose.

3.11. The Technical Center connects the Client (another person who is granted the right to use the approved page template by the Client) to the approved page template within 10 business days after the Client pays the Registration Fee (as defined in Section 5 of these Terms) for the corresponding approved page template and the Technical Center receives information confirming that the Client (such person) has completed the Registration Process.

3.12. Unless otherwise provided in Appendix No. 2 to the Terms and Conditions, registration of the approved page template is carried out by registering (entering in the Technical Center databases) in the name of the Client the user name (login) and password for access to the approved page template (where applicable).

3.13. Activation of the login (identifier) and password of access to the approved page template is carried out immediately after registration of the approved page template by entering the relevant information in the databases of the Technical Center or the approved page template copyright holder.

3.14. Based on the results of installing the approved page template, the Technical Center ensures that the approved page template is ready for functional use.

3.15. The Technical Center, by agreement with the Client, undertakes to provide the Client with the possibility of preliminary testing of the approved page template. In cases stipulated by the List of Services, preliminary testing of the approved page template is mandatory.

3.16. Installation of the test version of the approved page template for preliminary testing is performed by the Client independently within the time limits agreed with the Technical Center.

3.17. The Client undertakes to use the approved page template in accordance with the technical documentation for the approved page template. When using the approved page template, the Client undertakes not to perform any actions (omissions) that disrupt or may disrupt the normal functioning of the approved page template in accordance with its intended purpose, including creating obstacles to the provision of services by the Technical Center to other Clients and (or) disrupting the bidding process of the Trade Organizers for which the approved page template is used.

3.18. The right to use the approved page template granted by the Technical Center is terminated in case of disconnection of the Client (other person to whom the Client has granted the right to use the approved page template) from the approved page template, except for the cases specified in clause 8.5 of these Terms and Conditions.

3.19. If the Client has granted the right to use the approved page template to third parties in accordance with these Terms and Conditions, the Client is responsible to the Technical Center for the actions of such third parties.

3.20. The Technical Center provides the Client (other person to whom the Client has granted the right to use the approved page template) with a distribution of the corresponding approved page template as new versions of the approved page template are released, the right to use which is granted by the Technical Center to such Client (other person to whom the Client has granted the right to use the approved page template). If it is necessary to replace the version of the approved page template that has been granted the right to use by the Client (or another person who has been granted the right to use the approved page template by the Client) with a new one, the Technical Center will perform such replacement (where applicable).

3.21. For the duration of maintenance work, the Technical Center has the right to terminate partially or completely the Client's access (or any other person granted the right to use the approved page template by the Client) to the approved page template. The Technical Center undertakes to inform the Client about all planned interruptions of the approved page template and/or communication facilities no later than 24 hours before the start of such interruptions.

SECTION IV. Password Recovery Feature

4.1. The Technical Center implements a NEW password recovery feature for the approved page template, allowing users to regain access if they forget their password.

4.2. The password recovery feature is the newest feature implemented by the Technical Center for the approved page template.

4.3. The password recovery feature is designed to enhance security and user convenience by providing an easy way to recover lost passwords.

4.4. The Technical Center guarantees that the password recovery feature is secure and does not compromise the integrity of the approved page template or its contents.

4.5. The password recovery feature is accessible through a dedicated link on the approved page template login page.